

Presenter: Prof Jeffery Froyd, Editor-in-Chief ToE

Topic: Workshop on Publishing in the IEEE Transactions on Education

Date & Time: 9th of June 2016, 8:45—11am (Sydney Time)

Venue: Online Event using iSee

Cost: Free for IEEE and ASEE Members

Registration: <https://meetings.vtools.ieee.org/m/38310>

The Event

Prof Jeffery Froyd, Editor-in-Chief of IEEE Transactions on Education will be involved in an open discussion with participants on what it takes to publish a high quality engineering education journal. Participants will gain an insight into the three different areas of scholarship and their requirements for publishing within the IEEE Transactions on Education.

Participation

The event will be held online using the iSee platform. This is group meeting software contained within an immersive video augmented 3D virtual world. As a result individuals can participate from any location as long as they have an internet connection (4G or better recommended) and a PC or MAC with webcam and microphone.

Registration is limited and based on a first come, first served basis. Registration will close on the 6th of June 2016 at 8pm. Soon after the registration deadline has passed, all registered guests will be emailed a web link that will allow you to download the software and participate in the session. It is recommended that participants test access in advance of the session to eliminate any technical issues.

Presenter Biography

Dr. Jeffrey E. Froyd received the B.S. degree in mathematics from Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology and the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees in electrical engineering from the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis. He is a TEES Research Professor in the Office of Engineering Academic and Student Affairs at Texas A&M University, College Station. He was an Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Rose-Hulman Institute of Technology. At Rose-Hulman, he co-created the Integrated, First-Year Curriculum in Science, Engineering and Mathematics, which was recognized in 1997 with a Hesburgh Award Certificate of Excellence. He served as Project Director a National Science Foundation (NSF) Engineering Education Coalition in which six institutions systematically renewed, assessed, and institutionalized innovative undergraduate engineering curricula. He has authored over 70 papers and offered over 30 workshops on faculty development, curricular change, curriculum redesign, and assessment. He has served as a program co-chair for three Frontiers in Education Conferences and the general chair for the 2009 conference. Prof. Froyd is a Fellow of the IEEE, a Fellow of the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), an ABET Program Evaluator, the Editor-in-Chief for the IEEE Transactions on Education, a Senior Associate Editor for the Journal of Engineering Education, and an Associate Editor for the International Journal of STEM Education.
