Articles will be published under a CC-BY-NC license (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Creative Commons license), allowing free reading, download, distribution, and sharing (both printed and electronic), as long as the author and IEEE Victoria are credited. Commercial use is not permitted. Authors retain moral rights to their work. Upon acceptance, authors grant IEEE Victoria a non-exclusive copyright license. This includes publication under the CC-BY-NC license and the full right to use the article worldwide. If you disagree with the CC license, the editorial board may still consider your work under regular copyright terms.

Authors must ensure their submissions don't infringe on third-party rights. Any third-party material (illustrations, tables, photos) must be cited with proper source identification.
